

BF&A - 10 - Rhine Falls

October 13th, 2013 | Author: albert

Schaffhausen - Switzerland

(Click on the images to see a larger version)

Today we leave Lake Constance to go to the Black Forest. But first, we stop at the Falls of the Rhine.

[photo]

Wörth Castle over the falls

Wikipedia says they are the greatest falls in Central Europe with 150 meters wide and 23 high.

[photo]

Platform to access the center of the falls

The closest town is Neuhausen am Rheinfall along the river through the northern part of Switzerland.

[photo]

Water power impresses

When I see these natural wonders I try to imagine how they laid the foundations of the platforms or who was the first to dare to go by boat through the currents.

[photo]

Balcony

[photo]

I hope you enjoyed the views ... ;)